

Terrianne Small

Terrianne Small is an entrepreneur, humanitarian, coach, published author and speaker. She has been married to her husband Mark for 17 years and is the mother of two, Quinton, 13 and Lauryn, 10. Terrianne and her family reside in Laytonsville, MD.

She has been featured as a guest judge on the MTV hit series MADE, a Fox 45 News segment on Body Language, starred in a local Baltimore Orioles Commercial, had a guest appearance on the Absolute Body Power cable TV show, and served as a guest speaker on 5 syndicated radio shows.

Terrianne received her B.B.A. in Computer Info Systems from Howard University. She holds certifications and training in Marketing, Appearance Counseling and Leadership Development.

No stranger to Pageantry, she has held the title of Mrs. Maryland International 2007 where she went on to place 2nd Runner Up at the National Pageant in Chicago, IL. She is the Founder of TerrianneSmall.com, a Personal Success Development company devoted to globally empowering women to develop the skills and support their need to live their dreams. Mrs. Small is also a published author of the book, The Essence of Presence – A step by step action guide for unleashing the Power of Y-O-U!

Laine Berry

Laine Berry is a 1995 graduate of the University of Central Arkansas, where she obtained her degree in Communications. Laine is the owner of The Royal We pageant and prom boutique in Conway Arkansas, where she has dressed numerous state and national level titleholders. For the last 10 years Laine has served as a volunteer with the American Heart Association, and has lobbied for them at both the state and national level, traveling over 40,000 miles last year for the organization as a national spokesperson. She currently serves as the chairwoman for the AHA's Arkansas Grassroots Advocacy committee, and oversees the You're the Cure campaign in the South-Central Affiliate. Laine was honored to be named Mrs. International 2008.

Jessica Glasscock

Jessica Glasscock has been involved in pageantry for 15 years as a competitor, judge, coach, and director. Included in her competition credits are holding the title of Miss Kentucky Teen America 2001. Jessica cultivated her reign as Miss Kentucky Teen, and began serving as the Executive Director for the Miss Kentucky Teen America, Miss Kentucky Jr. Teen America, and Kentucky's Miss Princess Pageants in 2006. Jessica received the "Director of the Year" Award from the National Office in both 2006 and 2007 and is proud to have directed her 2009 Titleholder, Katie Himes, in earning the title of Miss Teen America 2010.

Jessica is a 2004 graduate of the University of Kentucky, where she obtained a degree in Integrated Strategic Communications. She is employed as the Communications Director for Team Spirit of Lexington. Jessica resides in Danville, Kentucky with her husband Nathan. The couple is expecting their first child in late November.

